A City Upon a Hill: How Sermons Changed the Course of ...

Witham's highly readable history of the American sermon strongly bolsters the contention that words change minds and alter the course of events. He discusses the great sermons, from John Winthrop's "city on a hill" homily to the Gettysburg Address to Martin Luther King Jr.'s "I have a dream" speech. He persuasively argues that sermons and religious rhetoric have accompanied turning points in American history and that the Bible is fundamental to understanding American culture. He discusses
